LETTERS TO HER

INTRODUCTION

Convincing someone is a difficult task. The word 'difficult' becomes 'impossible' when the other person tries to understand the whole activity from a view point different from yours. When it comes to love, both partners should think from their heart; not with mind. However, in real-time scenario, people follow their own inflexible strategies. Most of the people don't keep in mind the big picture while dealing with this kind of sensitive matters. Now, just imagine, if your partner is one among them and she neither communicates with you nor reciprocates your feelings. Now, to convince her, whom you love from your heart, is really a challenge, right?

The goal behind writing this ebook is to help a lover to convince his partner. There are 31 convincing mails published in this book. You can use these mails in whatever way you want based on your context requirement. All the mails are published along with day numbers. Start communicating with her by sending mails and show your romantic side to her. You can either simply start the communication by just following the day order by which these mails are published or can custom pick a few mails and use them in whatever way you want based on your context. All these 31 mails start with different themes altogether but ends with a sweet request.

This way, there is at least 70% chance that she may fall for you looking at your persistence and effort. However, there are a few people out there, who do not respond even after receiving and reading your mails for that many days. And if you think that your partner falls under this 'stubborn' category, this ebook advises you to 'move on' and find someone else!

Please note that you have to use closing words like Cheers/Smiles/Ciao/etc at the end of each mail while sending it.

Best of luck!

DAY 1

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 1

Hi Miss,

How do you do?

Hope you remember me. We met in [function/place] recently.

When I enquired about you with [mutual friend's/relative's/etc name], s/he has given me your mail ID.

Taking a little bit of liberty based on our earlier conversation; I am sending my profile to you for your perusal.

Please check it out and reply (+ve ... please)!

Cheers/Smiles/Ciao

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 2

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 2

Hi Miss,

How do you do?

Have you gone through my profile?

Please check it out and if interested, we can take it further.

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 3

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 3

Hi Miss,

U read my message and still not replied!! :)

Hmmm... then how shall I take this... YES or NO?

Tell me something to CELEBRATE! Please..... :)

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 4

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 4

Hi Miss,

If silence is the name of the game, I think you will definitely WIN.

But is this some kind of management strategy? I am clueless...

If that is the case, I become your FAN.

Speed is the name of the game in the current world...and here, I am seeing 'saintly silence'... for everything and anything!!

Though I am not a fan of this MOUNA VRATAM game, nevertheless, I started loving this game... :)

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 5

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 5

Hi Miss,

People follow different strategies to get things done in this world; for ex, Gandhi... Satyagraha.

Sometimes, these strategies become more popular and common people become fans/followers of these 'strategy implementers'.

First time, I am seeing a beautiful person with a razor-sharp mind executing a silent strategy while communicating with others... that also in a domain like matrimony where people, like it or not, explicitly share their preferences, like and dislikes, etc, upfront... before making any sort of commitment!

Following a silent strategy, here, is like 'out of the box' thinking and we, poor mortals, can't understand these divine strategies!

Normally, we know two things here... either getting accepted or rejected...that's all!

LETTERS TO HER

Not doing anything...means...it is something like 50:50... just like a tossed coin standing on one of its sides...without showing neither head nor tail!!

Just because I am asking you to make a decision... doesn't mean... that you take any decision!!

Request you to take a +ve decision and reply to my mail!!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 6

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 6

Hi Miss,

You know what... nowadays... it has become an addiction for me to check my mail... just to make sure that you have NOT REPLIED ANYTHING!! :)

Don't know why, but without my knowledge, I am really enjoying this game...of yours...!!

If SILENCE is the name of the game, I think... you will definitely WIN.

Normally, are you like this or only in my case...you are following this way!

In Hindi... this 'Silence' is called 'Moun'...but again...even Moun..has its Ragam... called 'Moun Raag'...Silent Symphony...in English...Do you also have your own 'Moun Raag'?

I don't know much about your raagam, taanam, pallavi, etc....however, I could tell you one thing with conviction...no matter what raagam you sing... or make me sing...I became your FAN.... Mademoiselle! :)

LETTERS TO HER

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 7

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 7

Hi Miss,

You know in Italy, both the genders show more passion towards cooking food. Actually, for them, it is like a ritual; not just cooking food, which we normally do here. The interesting point is that both the partners work as a team to do this cooking ritual and share tasks based on each person's abilities and skill set; not in 50:50 manner. Watching the partners in action creates romantic excitement even in old couples from traditional countries, where displaying affection outdoors is a complete no-no.

It is not that you don't know all these things. But, what I am trying to tell you is that people as partners can do better things in life rather than individually. You might be a go-getter in your life so far; however, sharing those action moments with another person (not your bros/ sis/ parents/ friends), whom you love is another matter altogether, right?

Then, why don't you extend your hand??

Awaiting your reply...with +ve hope...

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 8

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 8

Hi Miss,

Without knowing much about a person, it becomes very difficult to communicate with them. Most of the times, it will be guess work based on what info you have provided. However, life is like this only; no matter how intelligent you are, you don't know what happens in the next minute. Similarly, you don't know with whom your marriage is fixed. Maybe that is the reason why elders say that marriages are made in heaven; indirectly shifting responsibility on to the shoulders of God and crossing their fingers to see what happens next.

Guessing has become a part of life...not only mine...including yours. Nowadays, you wait for my messages....You read them but you pretend as if you don't know about them. You don't want to communicate with me and try to ignore me...but unsuccessfully. Day in and out, only one question in your mind...who is this guy, right?

If you don't want me to send mails, you can tell me that thing in a lovely manner. At least, I will come to know that you don't like me (joke!). As long as you won't give reply, I think that you are interested in my mails and keep sending them.

LETTERS TO HER

Aey! One personal request...don't take my sayings seriously,
OK?

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 9

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 9

Hi Miss,

Does one always have to lead a serious & workaholic life? We all need to do work but work should not lead our lives, right? Studiousness, focus, strictness, go-getter attitude, etc, all are good. But, ever thing has its own place.

If you try to look everything from a same point of view, then you won't find much difference dealing with a loving caring husband and a disciplined strict subordinate, right? Everyone looks same...including bed and desk, blanket and table cover! (joke!)

Why don't you respond to my request? Telling what you think about me is not a crime, right? Even if it is... please do it. I won't sue you! (joke!)

Hope you keep aside some time to attend small requests from me!

Awaiting your +ve reply Madam... :)

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 10

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 10

Hi Miss,

Seriousness is a great asset. Normally, people who possess this asset display reserved character. But, what is the need to display this sort of character in my case? All I am asking is accept me. That's all, right? Is it that much a big decision? Will it turn you upside down? If yes also... I am pretty sure that happens in a positive way only... don't you believe in my words? Then do it...means accept me...automatically, you will come to know what I am saying... 😊

Life is short and you know this. We already wasted so many precious moments of our lives thinking about the unknown future and illogical reasons. If not today, tomorrow it has to happen...I mean...marriage. But, with whom? That is the million dollar question and no one knows the answer; including you. Only when it happens, we will come to know..oh..s/he is the one... until then...fingers crossed!

I have great respect for you and belief in your intelligence. And I know you long for those thrilling and exciting moments in life. Now, why don't you think about me and take a positive decision?

LETTERS TO HER

.....

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 11

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 11

Hi Miss,

Actually from my point of view, if someone is silent...that means... it is YES.... So... if you keep your silence... like this... then I take it as YES... and you are OK to my proposal :)

However, I think one thing... if you are working in software... I am pretty sure that you are not in the development side... because developers try to develop (including relations!) everything... and they can't keep silent like this... maybe you are on the testing side!! And you are testing me like this!!??@#&

However, I would like to tell you that a part of my job profile involves convincing people... so as long as I won't get an answer (please... make it +ve!) from your side... I will do my level best to convince you... by sending this kind of mails! :)

Hope you take my message in the right spirit!! :)

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 12

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 12

Hi Miss,

Since you love to play 'hide and seek' game... meanwhile I tell you about something that might interests you... just check it out!

You know Hindi?? Do you love songs? At the moment, I am listening to 'Aye ajnabi tu bhi kabhi aawaaz de kahin se' song from 'Dil Se'...I am not a Sharukh's fan by the way...but, this song caught my attention recently... you know why?? There is some sort of similarity in the situation ... there the hero also doesn't know...anything about the leading lady... and here also, the same situation!! :)

Jokes apart... seriously, how much time do you need to make your mind yaar (I mean...to tell the +ve answer!!!)

If you are thinking that I am writing all this... for the sake of fun... then just think again... seriously, does anyone do this? No, right? :)

If you are thinking that why don't I call you directly if I am dead serious about you... then here is my answer: I am just waiting for that GREEN signal from you... I don't want just to barge in to your life and declare my presence... If you are convinced about my conviction, then you know what to do...!:)

LETTERS TO HER

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 13

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 13

Hi Miss,

Everyone says that you are a good thinker. You always keep an eye on your future... in terms of how it should be, who should enter your life, how to deal with future issues, etc. This means, you already thought about me, right... then? Why don't you invite me for a chat or lunch and tell your 'dil ke baat'?

Even Laila and Majnu might not have taken this much time to decide who should enter their love life! But, you are taking and I like it. Look, because they have not taken that much time to think about all this who, what, when, etc, stuff, their love failed. But, in our case, since you are taking this much time, I am pretty sure that our relation would be definitely built on a strong foundation. The only question is... WHEN?

Hope in this life, you help me build our relationship bridge and help me to reach your bank... I mean Your 'love' river bank... not your 'savings' bank! (joke!) 😊

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 14

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 14

Hi Miss,

I love chasing; for that matter, I did chase in every activity of my life to reach my current position, professionally. However, in your case also, I am doing the same... I mean... chasing. While doing the chase, the chaser has to keep only one goal in my mind... the target. That's it! And nothing else... otherwise, it would be difficult to reach the goal. But, why I am telling you all these things? You already know all this, right?

Now, the question is... are you also doing this chasing in my case? No... that's what you say... but I say... that you are chasing me... without your knowledge... in your thoughts... now, at this moment...!! How can I tell?

Simple, you are reading my content and as you know, without interest people won't do anything. Now, you are doing it means, what? You are interested in my content, indirectly in me, and you like to know what I think about you and write to you?

LETTERS TO HER

In another way, this is called chasing.... see, without uttering a single syllable and typing a single word, you are chasing me!! Great yaar! You have that uber chic intelligence embedded in your mind! A very rare talent! Hope you do this chasing throughout your life but ONLY in my case!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 15

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 15

Hi Miss,

Being in a cloud of distractions is common when someone is searching for 'Mr. Special'. But, why you are like that even when the person whom you are in search is knocking your door... ME and who else (joke)!

However, with this sort of distractedness and confusedness about whom to accept in to your life, you are really looking cute. You know what... the real culprit in this case is OPTIONS. You are presented with lot of options in this life regarding your life partner and you don't know how to choose the best one regarding who suits you and accepts you as his life partner. Whatever!

Nevertheless, I must say this: to find someone as pure and beautiful as you is really difficult. But, whoever gets you in their life is really blessed! You are an asset to those, whomever you choose to go with. In that case, is it a crime if people like me, who is 'head over heels' likes you... wants you in his life, forever? No, right?

LETTERS TO HER

Then, why don't you bless me with your beautiful soul and reply my mail!!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 16

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 16

Hi Miss,

Whenever you read my message, you have one lingering question in mind: do I know this guy? Right? Since I am frank, disciplined, sincere, smart, guy, who does not want to play mischief with people whom I am in love with, I tell you the truth! The answer is NO. You don't know me. But I know you; in my dreams! Every day I meet you, talk to you, and etc, etc.

What I think is that we will gel with each other seamlessly. I hope that you already know this! In my dreams, your beautiful smile makes my day and I want to make it real. Is it possible? Can you help me to realize my dream?

The moment you say YES to my question, which is the moment of truth, I tell you who I am and why I want you to be my life partner. Until then, suspense!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 17

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 17

Hi Miss,

Today, I just spent time looking at your photo. I don't know how many hours I spent like that. That beautiful smile of yours is really infectious; a slight expression but yet has a huge impact. You know what, there were so many battles fought on this planet to own that infectious smile; like yours. The core part of any story that is widely told on this planet involves a lady with a beautiful smile. All the power in this world cannot conquer that beautiful smile. All the valuable things in this world are nothing but trinkets when we try to compare them in value terms against that infectious smile. Am I wrong in saying so? Please let me know with your million dollar smile.

Who doesn't want your smile? But, whomever you let to own that smile is the real lucky one in this world. God also might not have known the impact of this smile gift that he has given it to you! Earlier, he has given it to beautiful ladies of this world like PADMINI, CLEOPATRA, etc, and now, YOU. I am not exaggerating; you know what, someone said that beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder and when I see you with my eyes, I feel your smile has that sort of impact on me!

If I am wrong, please correct me by throwing one more billion dollar smile at me!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 18

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 18

Hi Miss,

Why don't you open up? How long you keep the tight lid on your emotions and pretend that nothing has happened? Inside your heart, you really know what is happening, right? Then, please let out those feelings for me and break your silence at once. I am eagerly waiting for you and I promise that you never feel that you took a wrong decision. Please be less uptight. All I am trying to do is to give the best love in this world to you. Don't be suspicious.

You very well know that you can find happiness fast when I am with you. The problem is that you suspect me yet believe in me; two contradictory feelings! At the same time! How is it possible, madam? Even after knowing so much about me, you are resisting me. Why? A person like you, who can understand other people emotions very well, doing like this when it comes to finding a partner in her own case, really, astonishes me!

LETTERS TO HER

Whatever! I want to tell you one thing; though I am bedazzled with your looks I am really confused with the way you are behaving in my case, madam!

Why don't you tell me about what is there on your mind by replying to this mail?

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 19

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 19

Hi Miss,

What is it that is stopping you?

Sometimes, we think a lot to say a few words to a person. The delay may be due to some hesitation, thinking, how the other person receives your communication. But again, all these are your doubts, right?

You are still thinking! No. You are in dilemma. Right? But, how long you think? How long you wait? Or make the other person wait? Why not you say it whatever is there on your mind? Everyone, who knows you, knows that you are eager to say something. Then why you are still thinking? Why you are postponing? Those sweet thoughts are so hot to hold them in your heart for so much time.

Is it something like, no matter how much you pull yourself, you are unable to say those prized words. But, what is it that is pulling you back from the decision you took to say that thing? Whoever it is, is it not better to let out that sweet burning stuff from your heart of hearts instead of holding it just like how you are keeping his/her snap in your mobile/purse? Just think about it and reply!

.....

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 20

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 20

Hi Miss,

If your feelings are pure for any person, no matter what the world says, you can definitely expect positive vibes from that person for you. Life is there to enjoy and entertain every second you live. Unfortunately, time never stops for none. Hope you realize this truth and cross your self-imposed restrictions as quickly as possible.

The moment you take my name, you know that your heart beats fast. You become so eager to say something to me. You take your mobile, call my number, and once I receive the call and say Hello, suddenly, your mind goes blank and then you go silent!

The words reach your tip of the tongue but you are not saying. Your mind springs naughty thoughts but you are not expressing. Every nerve of yours sizzles and feels the zing thing but you are not feeling. Your sixth sense tells you that I am the one but your mind won't accept. This is really funny, right? Who will convince your mind to listen to your heart unless you? Tell me...

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 21

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 21

Hi Miss,

In this world where there are a few people out there who are very much interested in giving minute-to-minute feedback about what they are doing, where they are going, whom they are talking to, what they discussed with whom, etc, details which are of no use to anybody...and here, you are... not even uttering a single word though I am bombarding you with this many messages and mails! Great yaar!

All these modern gadgets, social networking sites, blogs, twitter, etc, helps a person to convey his thoughts 24 x 7 x 365. And you have access to all the latest communication channels in this world but not using them to communicate with me!! Why?

Is it that much difficult to accept my hand (of friendship!)? There is no fear that you lose something to someone unknown just by saying 'Hi' or reciprocating the same with an equivalent good gesture. Life is short. You need to make most of your time. Live life in such a way as if this is your last minute; this should be your motto of life.

LETTERS TO HER

What is it that is stopping you in your tracks to communicate with me, who really cherishes you most? How many times you got this idea to share your thoughts and aspirations with someone whom you think has the same wavelength as yours and can understand the depth of your emotions. Yet, how many times you resisted yourself by stopping that urge to communicate with that person?

Frankly speaking, I am no stranger to you. I am there in your thoughts, day and night, the moment you are impressed with me; will be there as long as you see me but hesitate to communicate with me!

Please communicate - You have nothing to lose except your fear and suspicion!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 22

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 22

Hi Miss,

Look! How many mails I sent so far I have written without getting a single reply from your side? You may think I have been persistent; but just think from my side once. Without you uttering a single syllable from your side, I did my level best to keep up the communication flow between us; though it is one-sided! Does this ring something in your mind? The energy, enthusiasm, and affection that I am bringing to you indicate 'my sincerity', right? Hope you understand this characteristic of mine and reply my mail.

Here, I am proving myself by giving you a real demo of all my personal characteristics that every couple thinks must and are really required for the continuation of any married life. And there, you are... not even throwing a glance at my mails. Is it that much difficult to say YES or NO to whatever I am asking in those mails? Having a loving and caring person in one's life is the dream of every guy on this earth.

May be you are expecting something else from life, which at this moment I don't have. But, you can tell me about what you are looking for from your partner, right? If it is there, OK; not there, I will try.

LETTERS TO HER

I think it is better if you open up yourself and freely communicate with me so that I can understand your requirements and try my level best to fulfil them, if possible.

Our life span is short and we have already wasted a precious part of that. Hope you understand this and start letting out those precious words to give me a positive reply!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 23

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 23

Hi Miss,

You must have realized by this time that our communication has gone beyond the regular 'friendship' level. Sending mails every day is OK but this is the time to take our interaction to the next level. All my mails express my deep interest that I have in you. And your silence after reading all my mails indicates that you are in a dilemma regarding what decision to take. Life always throws challenges. However, selecting me does not prove to be a challenge to you; I hope! Right?

The moment I saw our photo, I felt internally that a new phase is going to start in my life in a positive manner. If you also realize the same feeling, I think we can beef up our relation little bit stronger and provide little more depth to our feelings for each other. Although I am not getting any reply from you, I know that you are eagerly waiting for my mails every day and reading them. This itself indicates that you are interested in me and that is good indication for me to proceed further.

LETTERS TO HER

I am quite sure that we can establish a more intimate relationship filled with love, affection, and empathy towards each other.

The only request from my side is that I want you to leave your reserved character and be free while communicating to me. That means, please start replying to my mails; no matter whatever you think. A mail from you is like a 'pure sweet rain drop from heaven' to me. Hope you reciprocate my feelings!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 24

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 24

Hi Miss,

Can we make our relation little bit larger, bigger, gigantic!! I am using all adjectives here, not knowing, which one you like it more!! Jokes apart, seriously, why not we move our relation to the next level? A little more tectonic or platonic level!! Don't worry... about how to take it there. I am here to help you out! The solution is very simple to follow. All you have to do is to give reply to my mails, every day, the moment you receive them, religiously! That's all. Our relation automatically grows by leaps and bounds!

People, who are doing business, are in continuous search of expanding it. I am not mapping our beautiful relation with a 'business'. I am just metaphorically mentioning it. The point I am trying to make, here, is about 'making it big'; regarding our relation. In our case, at this moment it is a 'fledgling one'. Why not we make it little bit stronger and more passionate?? Hmm...!!

Think about it! Wave your green flag and I will do the rest!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 25

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 25

Hi Miss,

All my mails communicate to you only one thing... love. Though you are not responding to any of my mails, still I am very happy because so far you never told me not to send any mail like this. This 'inaction' (in my case!) from your side says so many things to me. First point is that you are showing interest in what I am writing to you. And second point is that you want to know my thoughts about you. This is really great! Actually, these two points act as the foundation for any relation; particularly OURS.

Love is mysterious. How it is born, why it is born, and how it directs our mind to choose one person to love cannot be explained in simple terms. It is like intoxication. Love intoxicates the mind and body by creating different dreams and hopes. One feels very happy during this stage. One feels that s/he is in a different world altogether. The person starts interpreting life and its purpose differently after falling in love.

LETTERS TO HER

For people in love, the whole world is surrounded, demanded and commanded by only one person; his lover. So, when you are going to command me...I am waiting!

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 26

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 26

Hi Miss,

I did not receive a single mail from you even after sending this many mails!! Your inaction or stubbornness or some other personal characteristic is really testing my patience; I have to accept that you are a hard nut to crack. However, I like this challenge. Since my childhood, accepting challenges and try to outdo myself in all the activities is one of the points of my personality.

Normally, when someone won't respond, we stop communicating with her. Nevertheless, people tell upfront whether they like to communicate with a person. The interesting point in your case is that you neither tell that you don't want me to send mails nor reply to my mails. So, it is like an open invitation for me...to send mails until you say NO.

People, in normal life, do not like challenges. As long as things are regular, they are very ebullient and even one can see highly confident diction in their communication.

LETTERS TO HER

When one gets hitched to somebody whom s/he does not know in person, then initiating communication with them itself is a challenge. But I successfully initiated communication with you and, by now, I might have sent at least 20+ mails to you. Frankly, you need to appreciate me!

So, when can I expect your appreciating mail...ha??

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 27

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 27

Hi Miss,

Every guy's dream is to have a svelte glamorous wife (best friend also!) by their side at some point in their life for sharing their emotional thoughts. While choosing a life partner, everyone obviously goes for the best. The selection process happens in a 'Many : 1' ratio. But, whomever that '1' person likes is considered as most fortunate person by these 'many'. And that one chosen person will be in a surreal stage during that 'love shower' period by the most charming person of his time.

A confused mind is a dangerous mind and it leads us into unknown problems with unfathomable depths.

Relations are like suds; as long as they do not come across any hard encounters, they stay. The moment the suds hits a rock, they burst. Relations must be soaked with love and affection. Love is the only thing that changes the suds characteristic of a relation into something strong.

LETTERS TO HER

In other words, building a relationship from scratch is very hard and taxes the builder's energy like anything. But the same activity becomes interesting if the other party joins the team and shares her feelings.

SO, when are you going to share your feelings to me?
Waiting...

LETTERS TO HER

DAY 28

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 28

Hi Miss,

What is the point of restricting oneself from committing to someone, with whom she is in love? Why people take so much time to say YES to anything that is 'good'? They keep on analyzing things minutely until all the action becomes cold; God only knows why!

On this planet, people, irrespective of their gender, chase happiness in all forms. They slog, day and night, to achieve those precious moments of happiness; I am also one among them. Once this testing phase is over and the minute I receive your mail, I will let you know how thrilled I was in chasing you! Actually, in the process of chasing you, I am finding new angles of my own personality. This is something unexpected and stupendous!

I really don't know when I receive your 'divine call' but my enlightenment phase already started! Through your silent lessons, you did amazing things to me and my understanding capabilities. First time, in my life, I came to know that silence has this much power. You know what... Gandhiji's 'mouna

DAY 29

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 29

Hi Miss,

Sometimes, we see a few people speaking with their own selves; you might have come across this kind of people in your daily life. But, ever thought why it happens? Why they do that? Most of the times, the general cause is that when a person loses his gregarious life and become gloomy, this kind of thing happens. But, in my life, that is not the case. 24/7 thinking about you... particularly regarding how to convince you to respond to my mails... is keeping me busy and is making me talk to myself just to frame the next strategy in terms of communication.

I never thought that such a situation happens in my case; but, it is happening...NOW! I don't believe myself. However, I am not gloomy but hep & pep! To survive in life, one needs at least some amount of mojo, which you are providing right now by not replying to my mails and maintaining eternal silence.

As you already know that we create our future based on our thoughts. Me too... trying to create my future with a person like you... but... I don't know what is stopping you from extending your hand and helping me to realize my efforts!

LETTERS TO HER

Why don't you assure me by sending a mail that this is not a 'Mission Impossible' project? Please try once!

DAY 30

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 30

Hi Miss,

Life is all about chasing and winning steeplechases. To understand those obstacles that come across in the steeplechase, one should display more maturity. However, there are certain tough projects that we need to take up in life. One such kind of project is 'getting married to the person with whom we are in love with'. Very few people get success in this kind of project.

Most of the times, people learn to get satisfied with whatever they get in life. Others fight and remain as fighters throughout their life. Only the remaining few get what they want. Sometimes, being rich also does not solve your problem; because, the person with whom you are in love with... is in love with someone else... or is on the lookout for a better person than you!

To lead a life successfully, one should learn how not to expect anything in life. Expectations are the real culprits. Always we expect something and something else happens. We propose love hoping that someone needs it, but no one wants it. We write mails thinking the other person will reply to our mails but NO. Gautama Buddha told in one of his teachings the same thing long time ago - Minimize your expectations, only then you lead a happy life. Bhagawat Geetha also stresses the same point but in a different manner: Do your job but don't expect result.

In your case, I am putting lot of effort. Let's see, what happens! What God (you!) decides?

DAY 31

LETTERS TO HER

LETTER 31

Hi Miss,

I just want you to answer one question. Does building a relation, a crime? Do I have to write that I am meant for you; take a peek at me!! No, right? I hope you know, right?? Miss?

Sometimes it seems that we presume a lot. We just see something and start making our own assumptions based on our earlier experiences. Some people go a little bit forward and start stereotyping also. Actually, do we need to play God? Do we need to move earth and heaven just to get a YES?

I was once lost... in my own world... but now... after I felt your presence in my life, I found myself again! I started looking forward in my life... about my future with you...! Nowadays, I am trying to make waves everyday; courtesy YOU! All my mails to you, so far, expressed different depths of imagination; about you. All I want is your acceptance. The inspirational effort behind writing all these mails came from the hope that I had in you.

LETTERS TO HER

This is my last mail to you! If you are not convinced even after reading this many mails, then I think you are still indecisive and could never make a positive decision about me.

Anyways, true love always ends with sacrifice! And I am said that I could not become the rainmaker in your life!

Best of your luck for your partner search; hope you get what you aim for.

With love... 😊
