

Playing

Sitting in an expensive restaurant
Playing like you've got class
Playing high school games
You sparkle like the wine in your glass
Flirting across the room
He knows everything isn't right

You bend over backwards
To bend all the rules
What's your concept of reality
Your take on responsibility
You made a commitment
And you're playing him for a fool

You want me and love me
You need and adore me
You don't honor your promises
Don't include me in your act
Did it ever occur to you
He needs you the way you need me

You got his ring on your finger
And his name on your checks
You share a bedroom
You share a name
And you share the rent
Sharing a life together
But now you want to run around
You're tired of the love you've found
